I KNOW WHAT YOU'LL DO THIS ENDLESS SUMMER

New Zealand is one of the world's road trip mecca's – a combination of ultra cool urban cities, great surf and majestic mountains. And while winter is the season of choice for snowboarders from around the globe, summer in New Zealand is a great time for a road trip.

Hippie Camper is offering an Endless Summer special with prices for a 7 day holiday for only $263 per person twinshare including free camp table and chairs, for travel between 16 November and 16 December.

Full terms and conditions are at <http://www.hippiecamper.co.nz/summerspecial>.

For inspiration on what to do this summer head to www.newzealand.com/int/campaign/stories-beat-stuff/blog/ and find out what the winners of Tourism New Zealand's 'Culture Kaboom' competition – Griffin, Dave, Christian and Graeme from Canada – are getting up to as they travel NZ in their Hippie Campers.

Otherwise, we've picked a few below. Happy summers.

TOP FIVE THINGS TO DO IN NEW ZEALAND THIS SUMMER

1. Tekapo Springs Summer Tube
It's snowtubes but not as you know them. Glide down a carpeted track around twists, turns, bumps and curves.

2. Jet Boating
'Feeling the wind in your hair' gains a whole new meaning in this adrenalin packed sport. Hot jet boating spots include Shotover River in Queenstown and the Waikato River in Taupo.

3. Fishing
If you're in a campervan with its own gas bbq don't forget your fishing rod - New Zealand's fish make a particularly tasty free feed.
4. Kayaking
With its rivers, bays and lakes, New Zealand offers unlimited kayaking opportunities, so get out there on the water and explore.
